KENTUCKY PUBLIC
SERVICE COMMISSION

PURPOSE

The Appliance Recycling Program (“ARP”) offers an incentive for the removal and recycling of old energy-inefficient refrigerators and freezers resulting in lower energy consumption at the participating residences.

AVAILABILITY

This program is available in all territories served by Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc.

ELIGIBILITY

This program is targeted to existing single-family, multi-family, and manufactured homes that currently have old energy-inefficient refrigerators or freezers. The residential end-use cooperative member (“end-use member”) may be eligible for this incentive by offering an existing refrigerator or freezer, subject to detailed eligibility requirements, to be picked-up and recycled. Detailed eligibility requirements are available at Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc. and on Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc.’s website. General eligibility requirements are:

- Must be a residential end-use member of Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc.
- End-use member must own the appliance(s) being turned in for recycling.
- End-use member must be eligible for the incentive – maximum 2 per metered account per calendar year
- Appliance must be between 7.75 and 30 cubic feet
- Appliance must be plugged in, operational, working and cooling when collection team arrives
- Appliance must be empty and have a clear path for removal
- Appliance must be picked up from the service address on the end-use member’s billing account

LANDLORD/TENANT RELATIONSHIPS

Notwithstanding the forgoing, a landlord who owns a qualifying appliance that is used by a tenant who is an end-use member of Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc. shall also be eligible to participate in the ARP program regardless of whether said landlord is also an end-use member of Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc.. A landlord may be eligible for a maximum of 2 incentives per metered tenant end-user's account per calendar year.

PAYMENT

The end-use member will receive a $50 incentive (rebate) per qualifying appliance from either Clark Energy Cooperative, Inc. or its designated ARP contractor.

TERM

The program is an ongoing program.
