Re: Concert Communications Sales LLC
Consummation of Transfer of Control

Dear Mr. Dorman:

This is to notify the Kentucky Public Service Commission (the "Commission") that a transfer of control of Concert Communications Sales LLC was consummated on April 1, 2002. The parties notified the Commission of this transaction by letter dated November 19, 2001. We obtained verbal confirmation from the Commission indicating that it had been received.

On April 1, 2002, BT North America Inc. became the 100% direct parent company of Concert Communications Sales LLC.¹ BT North America Inc. is an indirect subsidiary of BT Group plc and British Telecommunications plc, as discussed in our November 19 letter. AT&T Corp. no longer has any direct or indirect interest in Concert Communications Sales LLC. Concert Communications Sales LLC continues to be the entity holding authority from the Commission to provide telecommunications services.

¹ Pursuant to the Commission's order in Administrative Case No. 359, Concert registered to provide intrastate long distance service as a reseller on June 3, 1999. On August 23, 1999, Concert registered to have that authority extended to the provision of local exchange service as a reseller by filing a proposed tariff covering those services.
